NEW YORK SELF-INSURERS ASSOCIATION

The New York Self-Insurers Association is your source for education and advocacy in Workers' Compensation Law. That's why so many self-insured employers in New York State, and their strategic partners and suppliers, maintain NYSIA memberships year after year.

Your membership in NYSIA brings you together with the New York State and national self-insurance community, giving you an active voice in a complex, ever-changing environment.

About NYSIA

For over 100 years, the New York Self-Insurers Association (NYSIA), a not-for-profit organization, has served its member businesses by keeping them informed about important developments in the increasingly complex area of self-insurance, while promoting and protecting their vital interests.

Through an active, cooperative information network, NYSIA keeps members aware of pending legislation, changes in the law, new regulations, and other issues relating to self-insurance.

Benefits of Joining NYSIA

NYSIA can help your self-insured business steer your way through New York State Workers' Compensation Law and be your organization's voice of reason and advocacy.

Become part of an informative and powerful network

As a member of NYSIA, your organization gains access to prominent professionals, some who lead their organizations' self-insurance efforts regarding New York State workers' compensation policies. As part of this exclusive network you will have first and best knowledge of developments in the regulatory environment including how to manage, pay or litigate claims from a roundtable of experts answering pressing questions on workers' compensation claims administration.

Gain a voice and get your seat at the table

NYSIA, and you as a member, have a significant and strategic voice in the New York State and national conversation on workers' compensation.

For example:

» NYSIA has a longstanding and well-respected working relationship with all levels of the NYS Workers' Compensation Board including the WCB's Chair, General Counsel and Executive Director. The WCB frequently requests NYSIA's opinion on matters of concern in the workers' compensation field.

» NYSIA is a member of the New York Business Council, the lobbying arm for businesses in New York State. As a member of its Workers' Compensation Committee, NYSIA has a prominent voice on all workers' compensation initiatives.

» NYSIA Board of Managers comprise the Individual Self-Insurance Advisory Committee, which by statute, meets with the Chair of the Workers' Compensation Board twice per year.

» NYSIA is a member of the National Council of Self-Insurers which allows for sharing of ideas, discussing state legislative and regulatory reforms, and providing information that impact self-insured employers on a local and national level.

Why Is Workers' Compensation Self-Insurance Important?

Employers choose to self-insure their workers' compensation programs for a variety of reasons including:

EMPLOYEE NEEDS

Providing better care for employees by developing a workers' compensation program that meets the specific needs of employees

ELIMINATING EXTRA COSTS

Providing additional savings for the employers by eliminating additional fees, profits and taxes of purchasing an insurance policy

CONTROL OF CLAIM COSTS

Providing more control over claim costs for the employer through contracted rates with hospitals, pharmacies and medical providers with direction of claims administration

Self-insurance allows an employer to maximize cash flow as expenses are paid when due as opposed to paying upfront costs to an insurance company.

Additional Benefits of Joining NYSIA

As a NYSIA member you also receive:

- Discounted Annual and Spring conferences held at the Marriott Marquis - Times Square, New York City and The Sagamore Resort in Lake George
- Seminars on all topics related to workers' compensation from leading NYS workers' compensation attorneys, business executives, claims administrators, and from the Executive team of the NYS Workers' Compensation Board,
- Network with strategic partners, vendors, and suppliers,
- Opportunity to market your business at NYSIA's annual and spring conferences,
- Continued Education credits available for attorneys and claims professionals, and
- NYSIA is a leading voice opposing legislation that increases unnecessary costs for self-insured employers or negatively impacts businesses across NYS. NYSIA partners with the Business Council of New York to advocate for the interests of employers, while ensuring that injured workers receive the benefits they are entitled under the Workers' Compensation Law.

The New York Self-Insurers Association is your network, your team, your information source and your access point to everything related to self-insurance and workers' compensation.
